

New Mexico Ornithological Society 63rd Annual Meeting

21 March 2026

The New Mexico Ornithological Society (NMOS) will hold its 63rd Annual Meeting on Saturday, March 21 at the Rio Grande Nature Center in Albuquerque. This in-person meeting will include a morning birding event, a general science session, a business meeting, and a keynote speaker. NMOS is now accepting abstracts for oral presentations at the 63rd annual meeting.

CALL FOR PAPERS – NMOS GENERAL SCIENCE SESSION

NMOS seeks presentations on topics including technical reports, original research, and topics addressing more general science-related questions of interest to the New Mexico ornithological community. Presentations for the NMOS General Science Session will be 15 minutes in length, with an additional five-minute period for questions. Presenters must be registered to attend the annual meeting.

Abstracts for the General Science Session should be submitted in the format below.

- TITLE (in all capital letters) containing no more than 20 words
- Names and addresses of author(s) in the following form:
Skrubbs, J. A. and N. H. Renn
Dept. of Ornithology
University of Southern New Mexico
Birdsville, NM 87654
- Body of the abstract as one single-spaced paragraph, not to exceed 250 words
- E-mail address of presenting author

Please submit the entire text of your abstract in the body of the email, and not as an attachment. This will prevent any problems with incompatible word processing formats. The deadline for the submission of abstracts is March 1, 2026. Please email your abstract to Chuck Hayes at clhayes@unm.edu and to Matt Baumann at mbaumann22@gmail.com.

All abstract submissions will be acknowledged within a week of receipt. If no acknowledgement is received, the submitter should follow up and ensure their abstract was successfully received. The abstracts for the NMOS General Science Session will be distributed at the meeting and will be published in the NMOS Bulletin.
